1. The Supervisory Board should hold at least one meeting in each quarter and must hold two meetings in each half of the calendar year. As a general rule, the meetings shall be held in the form of physical meetings. If the Chairman of the Supervisory Board decides accordingly in justified exceptional cases, meetings may also be held by way of a video- or telephone conference or through the use of other comparable conventional telecommunication means.
2. The Chairman of the Supervisory Board, or if he is prevented his Deputy, shall convene meetings of the Supervisory Board in text form (e.g. in writing, by fax, email, or the use of other comparable means of telecommunication) with a notice of at least two weeks. The invitation can also be distributed via the data room, which is known and accessible to all members of the Supervisory Board. In cases, which are deemed to be urgent, meetings may be convened with an abbreviated notice period of no less than three calendar days. The day of the convocation notice is included in the notice period for the convocation of meetings.

3. Following an Annual Meeting in which shareholder representatives have been elected to the Supervisory Board, there will be a constituent meeting. A special convocation to this constituent meeting of the Supervisory Board is not required. If the purpose of this meeting is only to pass resolutions for the election the Chairman of the Supervisory Board and his Deputy and to set up and appoint members to committees, it is not necessary to publish an agenda.
4. The invitation to the Supervisory Board meeting must include an agenda, which sets out the items on which resolutions are to be adopted. This period shall include the day of the document provision. 6. Representatives of the shareholders and of the employees will, where necessary, make separate preparations for the meetings of the Supervisory Board, with the involvement, where requested, of all or individual members of the Board of Management.
7. The Chairman of the Supervisory Board, or if he is unable to attend permanently or temporarily his Deputy, chairs the meetings of the Supervisory Board and stipulates the order in which items are to be discussed and the method to be adopted for voting. If both the Chairman and Deputy Chairman of the Supervisory Board are unable to attend, a new meeting must be called. In urgent cases, however, the Supervisory Board may resolve with the approval of all members present at the meeting that the oldest member of the Supervisory Board in terms of age shall chair the meeting.

The Board of Management shall generally attend the meetings of the Supervisory Board; however, the Supervisory Board shall also meet regularly without the Board of Management. If the auditor is brought in as expert, the Board of Management shall not take part in this meeting, unless the Supervisory Board sees a requirement for it to attend. The Supervisory Board decides, at the proposal of the Chairman, or if the Chairman is prevented from doing so, at the proposal of the Deputy Chairman, on the admittance of further persons who can be consulted for deliberation on individual issues.

8. The Report of the Supervisory Board to the Annual Meeting shall note how many meetings of the Supervisory Board and its Committees were held in person or as video or telephone conferences or through the use of other comparable conventional telecommunication mean, and shall note the number of meetings of the Supervisory Board and its committees which were respectively attended by the individual members.

This shall also apply to the casting vote of the Chairman.
4. In the event of postponement and if a special meeting of the Supervisory Board is not convened, the resolution shall be deferred to the next regular meeting. A repeated minority request for postponement shall not be permissible for the second resolution.

If the Chairman of the Supervisory Board is present at the meeting, or if one of the attending members is in possession of his vote submitted in accordance with para. 3, the preceding sub-clause shall not apply if the number of shareholder representatives and of employee representatives on the Supervisory Board who take part in the meeting or take part in the adoption of a resolution by submitting their vote in accordance with para. 3 is equals or if an imbalance is offset by the voting abstention of individual Supervisory Board members.

5. The Chairman, or if he is prevented from doing so the Deputy Chairman, may also arrange for the adoption of a resolution of the Supervisory Board to be carried out in writing, by telephone, fax, email or the use of other comparable conventional means of telecommunication – as well as by a combination of these communications media – if no member of the Supervisory Board objects to this procedure within an appropriate period of time to be determined by the Chairman. The details of this procedure shall be determined by the Chairman.

If the second vote also results in a tie, the Chairman of the Supervisory Board shall have a casting vote.
